

Social workers who lie

Re "Endangering child protection," editorial, Sept. 22: AB 1355 is sponsored and supported by the Coalition of Californian Welfare Rights Organizations because it would stop social workers from avoiding accountability when they intentionally lie on social worker reports submitted to court.

AB 1355 simply provides that social workers should have the same immunity as police officers.

We do not believe that any person, especially a government employee, should be able to lie with impunity.
